Columbia University's Journal of Politics & Society

The submission deadline for the Spring 2010 Journal is January 23, 2010.

The Journal of Politics & Society is an interdisciplinary journal of undergraduate scholarship in the social sciences, published by the Helvidius Group of Columbia University. Founded in 1989, the Journal provides a forum for young scholars to contribute to the global dialogue on a diverse range of issues, including problems of political theory, economics, public policy, international relations, and law.

In 2007, the Journal became the first commercially distributed undergraduate periodical in the nation. The forthcoming edition will be distributed among academics worldwide and sold in Barnes & Noble and Borders bookstores.

The Editorial Board of the Helvidius Group is seeking submissions of scholarly research from UNDERGRADUATES (class of 2009 or later) in colleges and universities around the world. In addition, the Journal of Politics & Society will award the PETER AND KATHERINE TOMASSI PRIZE OF $250 to the author of the article judged most worthy by the Editorial Board in conjunction with faculty at Columbia University.

The Journal of Politics & Society is seeking original, topical, and rigorous articles including, but not limited to:

- Research on current economic, political, and social phenomena
- Analysis of the theoretical foundation of modern institutions

Students from ALL SOCIAL SCIENCE DISCIPLINES are encouraged to submit their work.

There is no absolute length requirement; however, published articles are typically 20–50 double-spaced pages long when submitted. Papers selected for publication undergo an intensive peer review and editing process, which involves significant communication between the Editorial Board and the author. Work previously written for classroom or individual use is welcomed.
